EVO, FINALLY!

THE RS 50 LAKH SUPERCAR FOR FOUR

The much [much!] awaited Mitsubishi Evo X finally made its commercial debut in the Indian market last month. Good (and exciting) things in life don't always come cheap and the Evo is no different. It carries a hefty sticker price of Rs 49.95 lakh (ex-showroom) but has the performance to justify it. This is one of those rare cars that have the ability to give you enough 'ear to ear' grins each day - enough to make your cheek muscles ache! Thrills come from a 2.0-litre turbo-charged engine that belts out 280 horses at 6500rpm. With all this power comes responsibility as well and hence power is transferred to all the four wheels. The Evo takes just 6.3 seconds for 0-100 km/h sprint and can hit in excess of 240km/h. The SST gear box (twin clutch) along with exceptional driving dynamics has the ability to transform even an average driver into a rally racer - this is what this car is all about!
