

HEART

IN MOUTH

There's something primal about the Mitsubishi Pajero. At first, it seems like a relic from the past – you step into the cabin and you're immediately transported back a decade-and-a-half. But, give it a chance – or, more appropriately – go off-road, and it all begins to make sense again. And that's precisely what Mitsubishi is allowing its customers across the country to do.

Luckily, they took us along for the ride on their visit to Delhi for their – aptly titled – 'Heart in Mouth' experience. A 'proper' off-road course is charted out through forests and hills by the very capable Cougar Motorsports team, which allows customers to truly test their mettle – and that of their machines.

We were handed a brand new Pajero, which, in its latest Bharat IV guise, is on sale once again in the Metros. The cabin is as solid as ever, and is clearly purposeful in its approach – it practically urges you
