

Mitsubishi EVO X launched at Rs 49.95 lakhs

November 18, 2010

Mitsubishi has announced the pricing of their super car, EVO X which was unveiled at the Autocar Performance Show earlier today. The Japanese manufacturer has priced the car at Rs 49.95 lakhs (Ex-Showroom New Delhi) for Indian buyers.

Following are some interesting facts about this supercar which makes it one of the fastest in the world;

- Titanium wheels with turbines that are turbocharged for higher speeds
- Light weight because of extensive use of Aluminum in manufacturing parts
- A TC-SST gearbox with 6 speed manual transmission
- AYC – Active Yaw Control, a system which collects data about steering angle, lateral and longitudinal acceleration, wheel speed and electronically controls rear differential
- AFS – Adaptive Front lighting System, illuminates your path of travel, even during tight corners, does not work for speeds above 100 kmph
- 0-100 kmph in under 4 seconds
- Top speed 250 kmph, electronically controlled for Indian version, in original version Evo X can cross 330 kmph.
